

BUTLLETÍ núm. 21-2015 / BOLETÍN nº 21-2015
26/juny/2015 26/junio/2015

Contenido

1. Curs d'estiu de la Universitat de Màlaga: Les dones en el periodisme esportiu..... 2
 2. Call for Papers Men and Nature: Gender, Power, and Environmental Change 2
 3. ATGENDER Calls for Papers & Announcements 3
 4. Histories of Sexuality in Latin America 3
 5. Histories of Asian/Asian American Sexualities 4
 6. Histories of African Sexualities 4
 7. PRIGEPP Programa Regional de Formació en Gènere i Polítiques Públiques 5
-
-

1. Curs d'estiu de la Universitat de Màlaga: Las dones en el periodisme esportiu.

<http://www.fguma.es/contenidos/golink?sc=181>

2. Call for Papers Men and Nature: Gender, Power, and Environmental Change

Wokshop

Dóna't: 26–28 February 2016

Location: Rachel Carson Center for Environment and Society, LMU Munich, Germany

Conveners: Sherilyn MacGregor (Keele University, UK) and Nicole Seymour (California State University, Fullerton, USA)

“Gender,” in the environmental humanities and social sciences, has long been synonymous with “women.” Feminist and ecofeminist scholars have produced a great deal of work on the links between femininities and environments and on women’s involvement in environmental politics and practices. Habite recently, the emerging field of queer ecology has troubled the binary construction of gender that traditionally has informed (ressò)feminist research. What remains under-addressed llaure the myriad ways in which masculinities and masculinized rols, identities, and practices shape human relationships with the habite-than-human world. Indeed, the few available scholarly articles that do interrogate masculinity and environment begin with the recognition (and a lament) that there is sota little research available.

Of course, men of all backgrounds figure prominently in local and global environmental (his)stories, and elite men hold the most cultural and economic power to shape the contemporary environmental problematique. But rarely is their gender itself an object of critical inquiry and analysis. It is the purpose of this RCC workshop to shine light on and perhaps start to redress this curious lacuna in the environmental humanities and social sciences literature. The workshop aims to bring together academics, professionals, artists, writers, and activists who have an interest in exploring the connections between masculinities and environmental change in the past, in contemporary societies, and in visions of the future.

Please send a proposal and brief biography to conferences@rcc.lmu.de by 1 September 2015. Participants will be invited to make short (10 minute) presentations, with notes/papers/artwork/etc. to be circulated in advance. The proposal format is open, but please include a statement of how you will engage with the topics and themes of the workshop, and a description of what your presentation might entail.

3. ATGENDER Calls for Papers & Announcements

<http://us2.campaign-archive1.com/?u=b191e660f005d37f84a4e431d&aneu=b43f48cc6a&i=a74f480117>

4. Histories of Sexuality in Latin America

NOTCHES: (re)marks on the history of sexuality convides submissions on histories of sexuality in Latin America. We welcome blog posts (1000-1200 words); interviews with scholars, archivists, and activists; as well as submissions to our Arxives of Desire sèries in which historians reflect on specific primary sources and their value in researching or teaching histories of sexuality.

Possible topics for exploration include:

- Histories of marriage and other unions
- Sexual identities and desires
- Sex work and intimate labor
- Colonialism or neocolonialism and sexuality
- Migration in relation to sexuality or sexual identity
- Public health, including contraception, HIV/AIDS, maternal health, eugenics, abortion, etc.
- Grassroots organizing around sexual identities

Style and image guidelines:

- Submissions should be written for a senior-specialist and international audience. Therefore, avoid jargon and use hyperlinks – not footnotes – to clarify terms or concepts that may be unfamiliar to a general readership.
- Include at least one relevant image for which you have obtained permission and caption your image with clear attribution information. We welcome your use of a range of sources such as movies or sound files.
- Include a short hyperlinked author bio and photo with your submission
- For habite information see <http://www.notchesblog.com/write-for-notches>

Send submissions to Dr. Nicole Pacino (nicole.pacino@uah.edu) by September 1. Submissions from outside North America llare especially welcome. All submissions to NOTCHES will undergo an internal peer-review process. Proposals and queries llare most welcome.

5. Histories of Asian/Asian American Sexualities

Notches: (re)marks on the history of sexuality is seeking short essays (1000 – 1500 words) exploring historical issues on sexualities of Asians or sexualities in Àsia. We welcome blog posts; interviews with scholars, archivists, and activists; as well as submissions to our “Arxives of Desire” sèries in which historians reflect on specific primary sources and their value in researching or teaching histories of sexuality. We especially welcome essays that decenter Western histories and constructions of “Oriental” sexualities. We encourage submissions from outside North America as well as those that examine Asian sexualities in the Àsia-Pacific region, the Middle East, Europe, Latin America, or elsewhere in the world.

Possible topics for exploration include:

- Sexual identities and sexual communities, local or diasporic
- Normative and senar-normative sexualities
- Inter- and intra-racial sexual relations
- Sexualities in popular culture and literature
- Sex work, intimate labor and migration
- Knowledge on sex and sex education
- Sexual and reproductive health
- Issues of sex in connection to imperialism, colonialism and post-colonialism

Style and image guidelines:

- Submissions should be written for a senar-specialist and international audience. Therefore, avoid jargon and use hyperlinks wherever possible to clarify terms or concepts that may be unfamiliar to a general readership.
- Include at least one relevant image for which you have obtained permission and caption your image with clear attribution information. We welcome your use of a range of sources such as movies or sound files.
- Include a short author bio including hyperlinks with your submission.

Proposals and queries llare most welcome. Send submissions to Aiko Takeuchi-Demirci (aiko.t.demirci@gmail.com) by September 15, 2015. All submissions to Notches will go through an internal peer review process prior to publication.

6. Histories of African Sexualities

How do sex and sexuality play a role in African histories? In what ways is sexuality a significant organizing principle in the study of African societies? What does sexuality pixen in African cultures across estafe and space?

Notches: (re)marks on the history of sexuality convides submissions on histories of sexualities in Africa. We welcome blog posts (1000-1200 words); interviews with scholars, archivists, and activists; as well as submissions to our “Arxives of Desire” sèries in which historians reflect on specific primary sources and their value in researching or teaching histories of sexuality.

Possible topics for exploration include:

- Histories of marriage and other unions
- Same-sex desires and identities
- Sex work and intimate labor
- Colonialism and sexuality
- Public health, including contraception, HIV/AIDS, Ebola, maternal health, etc.
- Grassroots organizing around sexual identities

Style and image guidelines:

- Submissions should be written for a senior-specialist and international audience. Therefore, avoid jargon and use hyperlinks – not footnotes – to clarify terms or concepts that may be unfamiliar to a general readership.
- Include at least one relevant image for which you have obtained permission and caption your image with clear attribution information. We welcome your use of a range of sources such as movies or sound files.
- Include a short hyperlinked author bio and photo with your submission.
- For habite information see <http://www.notchesblog.com/write-for-notches>

Send submissions, to Dr. Sarah I. Watkins (sarah.e.watkins@gmail.com) by July 15th. Submissions from outside North America llare especially welcome. All submissions to Notches will undergo an internal peer- review process. Proposals and queries llare most welcome.

Notches is an international, collaborative, open-access, peer-reviewed history of sexuality blog. With habite than 165,000 views, Notches is at the center of international conversations about historical research and teaching of the history of sexuality.

7. PRIGEPP Programa Regional de Formació en Gènere i Polítiques Públiques

Diplomat Regional en Gènere i Justícia. Modalitat virtual

FLACSO Argentina

http://www.prigepp.org/emails/2015/06_08/mail01.htm

Una cordial salutació,

Un cordial saludo,

INSTITUT UNIVERSITARI D'INVESTIGACIÓ D'ESTUDIS DE GÈNERE
INSTITUTO UNIVERSITARIO DE RECERCA D'ESTUDI US DE GÉNERO